

CRASHING the DOLLAR

A composite image showing two men flying on a paper airplane. The airplane is constructed from several US dollar bills, with the wings and tail clearly visible. The man in the front is smiling and holding the controls, while the man in the back has a more serious expression. They are flying over a stylized Earth, with a bright orange and yellow sky in the background.

How to Survive a Global
Currency Collapse

CRAIG R. SMITH
and LOWELL PONTE
Foreword by PAT BOONE

“The United States is digging the biggest economic hole in human history.

This hole of debt is now so deep that, if you listen carefully, you can hear the voices of Chinese creditors asking one another if they will ever get back the $900 billion they have lent to us.

This hole of debt is so wide that it threatens to collapse the foundations not only of the U.S. Dollar and economy but also of other major currencies and economies around the world.”

— Craig R. Smith
from his Introduction to Crashing the Dollar

*“In this eye-opening book, Craig and Lowell show what a crash of the dollar and other currencies would be like. They tell how America can avoid this economic disaster. They explain how you and your family, by preparing now, can survive, thrive,
and even prosper during a collapse of the dollar.”*

— Pat Boone, Entertainer
from his Foreword to Crashing the Dollar
